WOODROW WILSON HIGH SCHOOL

Named for a great man and dedicated to his ideals.

DEDICATION

Some characters, because of their own inherent nature, demand esteem and admiration. By conscientious work, kindly assistance, and noble example they are an incentive and inspiration to all with whom they come in contact. Such a person is our Senior Counselor, Miss Burney Flaniken, and to her this volume is dedicated with the love and admiration of the Senior Class.

FOREWORD

In this, the Third Volume of the Crusader, the staff has tried to present in picture and word, the work, friendship and pleasure of Woodrow Wilson High School in 1931. We have tried to let this volume touch, in some way, each individual and each department of our school. Our reward will be the satisfaction and pleasure this book may afford each one of you.

The Dad's Club of Woodrow Wilson High School has maintained an active interest in the welfare of both the boys and girls of the school, and by its loyal co-operation with the principal, faculty, and student body, has helped to promote all the social, athletic, and academic activities in which the students have been engaged.

Beautification of Randall Park, paving of streets leading to the building, and other civic improvements which add much to the convenience and pleasure of the school and community, have been sponsored by the Club.

Under its instigation, a rigid enforcement of zoning laws in the district adjacent to the school and the provision of traffic officers to safeguard the traffic before and after school have been secured. In every way possible the Club has demonstrated its interest in the life of the student body.

"This Love of Childhood is the common tie which should unite us in holiest of purpose."

With this motto in mind, the Parent-Teacher Association of Woodrow Wilson High School is striving to realize the sacredness of this work of ours. No holier ground can we find than that occupied by a father, a mother, or a teacher.

We have for our purpose the welfare of our children. In holding to this endeavor we have striven to become successful in the promotion of activities which, we trust, have contributed to the success of our children in their relation to the home, the school and the community.

We have also tried to stimulate the social intercourse between our teachers, the parents, and the students in order that we may reach a better understanding and appreciation of the school problems.

If our organization has, in this way, been an aid, then we are reaching that common tie, "The Love of Childhood".

W. W. H. S. Song

We'll be there on the square,
And you know that we'll play fair,
For we're fighting for our Wilson High.
We'll be there with the step,
And you bet we've got the pep,
For we're fighting for our Wilson High.

Then high, high, ho, where ever you may go,
Stand up for Wilson and shout.
So watch your step,
For we've got a lot of pep
And we're fighting for our Wilson High.

DEPARTMENTS

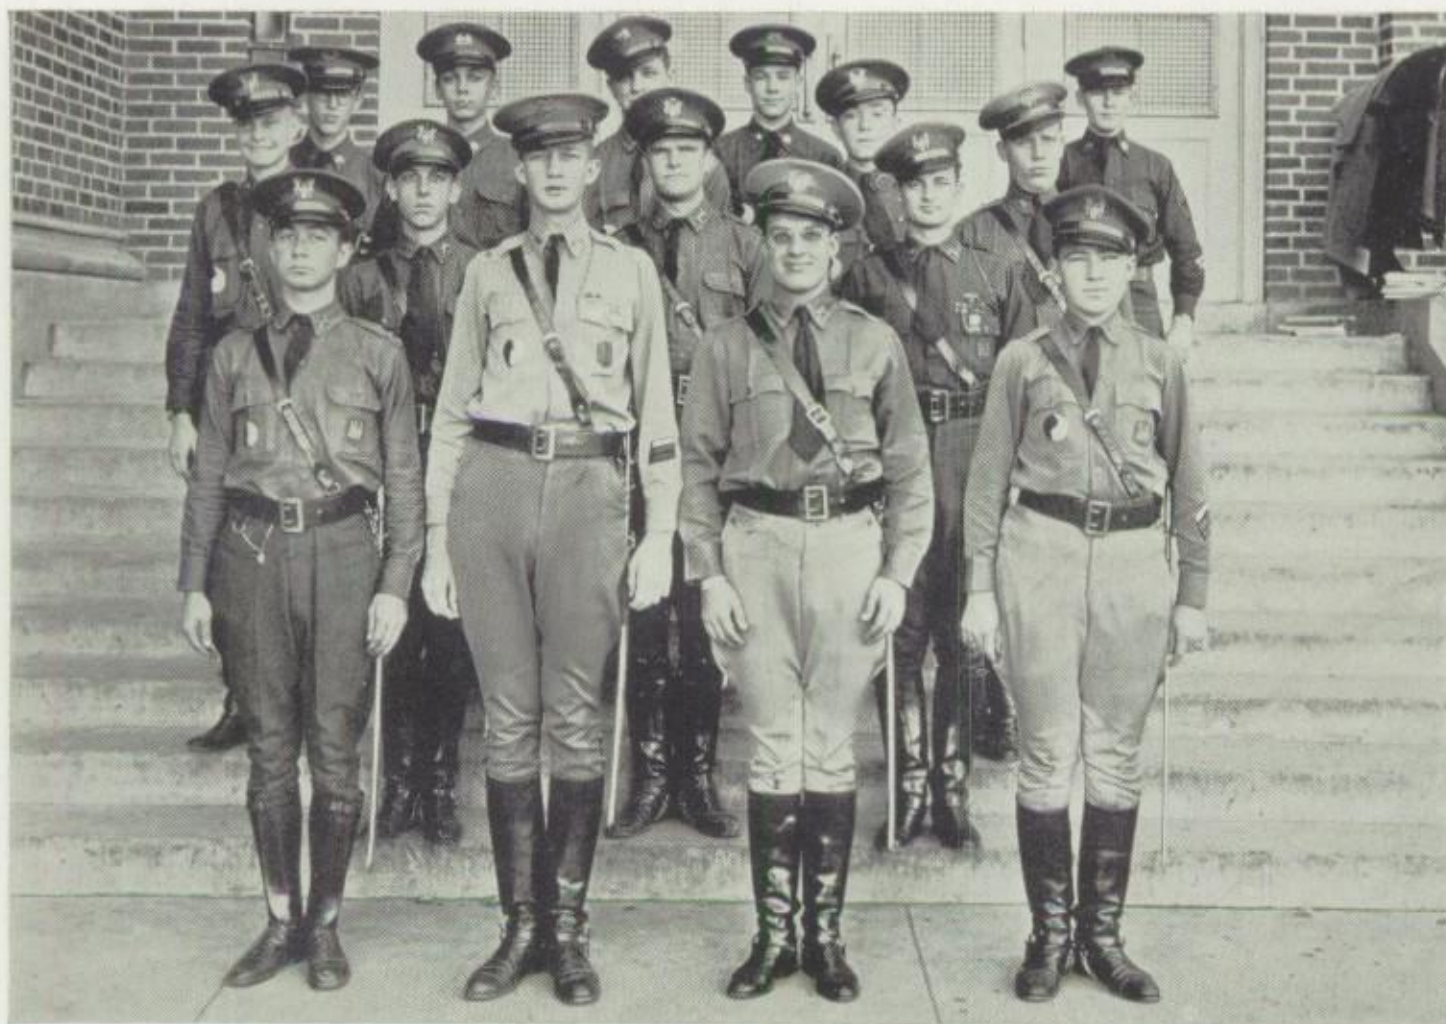

In interpreting the policy and message of the National Government in establishing R. O. T. C. instructions in Public Schools and other educational institutions of the country, this office maintains that it is not the purpose of the Government to make soldiers of students who participate, but to develop in them those qualities of manliness, discipline and leadership which will make these young men good citizens and natural leaders of men in whatever calling they may follow in the years to come. It naturally follows that such citizenship and leadership will give to the nation in time of national emergency the leaders necessary for its armies. The ultimate purpose, then, of the R. O. T. C. in the Dallas High Schools is to develop in the male students a high sense of patriotic citizenship and an interest in the individual responsibility of citizenship toward the preservation and protection of American institutions and ideals.

Lieutenant Ernest Muller of the Reserve Officers Training Corps, our commandant, ably assisted by Sergeant William Foster, has worked faithfully to build up a battalion morale which would place Wilson High among the leaders of the military departments of Dallas. Both men have had their training in the rigid discipline of the regular army and served in the late World War. Their intense interest in boys and their appreciation of their cadets' problems have made them both vital factors in the life of Woodrow Wilson High.

Miss Johanna Klotsche, director of the musical department of our school, is herself a marvelous pianist and musician and as such, she has created among us a love for the cultural side of life. Her unfailing courtesy and her cheerful willingness to assist on the programs for assemblies combine with her artistry and her delightful personality to make her one of our most popular teachers.

Library

No one department comes into closer contact with every student in Woodrow Wilson High than the library. In this bright, book-lined room, education loses some of its terrors and the pleasant ways of its guardian angel, our librarian, Mrs. Helen Braack, will always make this spot dear to the heart of each Woodrow Wilson graduate.

Department of Physical Education

What a change one short state law can bring about! Last year when the Texas Legislature met, they voted upon, and passed, a law requiring every student in the public schools in Texas to take a certain number of hours of physical education per week. No one took this requirement too seriously until we started back to school last September and Mr. Ashburn greeted us with the warning that regardless of what else we took, we must leave one period open for physical education.

Due to the enrollment of nearly a thousand girls in Woodrow Wilson High, our gym classes had to be scheduled so that we would each take two and three periods a week instead of the usual five periods. At first, it seemed that we would never get the "odd and even Wednesday system" straight. We were continuously running into the gym to ask, "Is this odd or even Wednesday?" However, by the end of the first semester we were entirely adjusted to our new routine.

During the second semester, stress was put on individual and general corrective work, each girl striving to improve her posture by concentrating on exercises adapted to her special need. Girls with marked curvatures, extremely round shoulders, etc., were put into a class by themselves, and after working hard for several months on individual correctives, these girls showed almost more improvement than any of the others.

The last of April, we put on our "Annual Gym Demonstration". Because of the vast crowds that always attend these Demonstrations, we gave it two nights instead of one, and judging by the comments of our audiences, we feel that it was quite a success.

After the Demonstration, the weather started getting warmer, and our pep slackened a little, but even so, we managed to play off baseball, tenikoit, and volley ball tournaments, and also to get in some grand walks on those beautiful sunny, spring days.

And so ended the year 1930-31, leaving us with a feeling of greater accomplishment and better results than those of any other year!

W. A. Pile, sponsor for the business department of the Crusader, by his effort and careful guidance, has made possible the publication of this volume. All during the school year, he has suggested, planned, and directed his staff through a course of finance which should entitle him to a position in the department of business administration.

Miss Erma A. Griffin, literary sponsor of the Crusader, has a fund of common sense, abundant energy and a sense of humor that has enabled her to help our staff in the publication of this volume. Her assistance and direction have made her very well liked by those of us who have worked with her.

Miss Carrie Dean, sponsor for the National Honor Society, helped in establishing this group of outstanding students. Her own high ideals and sense of honor make her peculiarly fitted to direct this Society.

Senior Honor Council

The Honor Council is composed of seniors who have been selected for this position because of their good records, both as to scholarship and school citizenship. This Council carries out Mrs. Braack's plan of student government to the fullest extent, and no student questions their authority.

Woodrow Wilson High has the distinction of publishing the only High School paper in Dallas. This paper is published without advertising of any sort and is a true mirror of our school activities. Mr. Pipes, sponsor of the business department of the Woodrow Wilson News, is largely responsible for the success of this publication. He has maintained a corps of salesmen who have worked and succeeded keeping up their sales level.

Miss Mildred Juniger, literary sponsor, has carefully directed and edited each number of our fortnightly news sheet. Her careful management and her enthusiastic interest have inspired her staff to the fullest effort to produce a paper that meets the needs and interests of our 1,953 students.

Arts and Crafts Guild

The Arts and Crafts Guild is an organization of the Woodrow Wilson High School students who are interested in a greater appreciation of art.

Meetings are held every other Tuesday. These meetings are sponsored by the faculty teacher, Miss Eleanor Benners. The programs vary from art work, sketching trips, visits to art galleries, to entertainments.

Silver Sabre Club

The Silver Sabre, a club composed of the cadet officers of Woodrow Wilson High School, was formed early in the first term of this year. The first officers of the club were Maj. William Parrish, president; Lt. Col. Cecil Stell, vice-president; Lt. Edwin Teal, secretary; Lt. Bill Willingham, treasurer, and Lt. King Harris, sergeant-at-arms.

Cadet officers of all other Dallas high schools were entertained by the Silver Sabre at a dance given on January 9, 1931. Other entertainments were also given by the club.

Mr. Berry B. Cobb sponsors most of the commercial clubs of our school. His students, who are especially interested in advertising and commercial geography, find in these clubs a rich field for work and investigation. Mr. Cobb's cheerful interest and ready co-operation have done a great deal to build up these groups into one of the strongest of our departments.

H. Bush Morgan, head of the department of public speaking and director of dramatic activities, is one of the most valuable members of our school faculty. Each school year, he acts as adviser to the two senior classes, directs the two senior plays, arranges the two senior day programs, sponsors the activities of the Senior Hi-Y and the Little Theatre and, in addition to this, still finds time to help arrange many of our assembly programs. His versatility, courtesy, and well-known spirit of co-operation have made Mr. Morgan universally respected and admired both by students and teachers.

The Jade Necklace

The January Senior Class presented The Jade Necklace at 8:15 o'clock, January 16, 1931. This baffling mystery was directed by H. Bush Morgan.

DRAMATIS PERSONAE

Doris Lee	MAXINE CHRISTENSEN
Mrs. Lee	AGNES MAE MULLER
Margery Moreland	IRENE CARNEAL
Julianna Banks	ROSEMARY SMITH
Hetty	CLARA ORMOND
Bert Hawtrey	RAYMOND ROBINSON
Biff Moreland	ERLE PATRICK
Dick Sylvester	L. W. GRAPP

Doris Lee, a rather flippant young Miss, who doesn't know her own mind from one minute to the next, has been willed a very valuable jade collection, including a $40,000 necklace which formerly belonged to a Chinese princess. Doris is to open the cabinet on her twenty-first birthday. During this affair, the necklace disappears. Each guest seems to be involved in the mystery. The remainder of the play is concerned with finding the stolen jade and straightening out the entanglement. Of course, there is the strain of romance running through the entire story. Biff and Julianna seem well on the way to happiness; Dick and Margery find they have kindred spirits; but Doris has to seek her affinity elsewhere, as Bert is the mysterious thief and leaves for parts unknown. Hetty is perfectly happy when the white jade "Buddy" is removed; and Mrs. Lee recovers her equilibrium after such a nervous strain.

The setting was unusually good with its draperies, grand piano, and love seats to indicate the well-furnished living room of the Lee home.

It would be a difficult matter to decide to whom honors of the acting went, for each actor gave a perfect characterization of his part, so it is no wonder that Mr. Morgan places this at the head of his dramatic productions.

The Youngest

Presented by the June 1931, Senior Class of Woodrow Wilson High School

In giving Philip Barry's The Youngest, the director and cast did an ambitious play for this comedy has been considered a very difficult production for experienced amateurs and professionals. The June Class was not to be outdone by the January group so they entered a play worthy of any Little Theatre. The performance showed accurate training and clear understanding. It is small wonder that "Mr. Bush" was all smiles as the final curtain closed.

First of all, there was a wealth of material to draw from as more than three score of the Seniors entered the tryouts. The setting was one of the most attractive to greet a high school audience; perhaps that accounts for the burst of applause as the curtain parted on Act I.

Dave Johnson not only knows his football, but he also knows a handful of tricks behind the foot-lights. No wonder Polly Richard has signed a contract with Hollywood studios. Were we selecting the best actor we would have to close our eyes and choose any one of the nine players.

The Youngest is an ingenious variation of the Cinderella theme, in which the hero, a down-trodden son, comes into contact with a charming busybody. The youngest eventually learns to assert himself, and turns upon his oppressors in splendid style. The play holds the mirror up to contemporary American life and views it in a very human and understanding manner.

Shall we toss a coin to find whether this ranks first among the six senior plays given since Woodrow Wilson opened?

ATHLETICS

Athletic Directors

Coach Herschel Forester has been with us for two years. Both years he has turned out a team that has fought as real Wildcats should fight—fair and to the last whistle. He has always given unsparingly of his time and advice, in order that Woodrow Wilson might have a glorious record on the grid-iron. In addition to this great work, Mr. Forester has endeared himself to the hearts of all the students by his unassuming modesty and his high standards of sportsmanship.

Assistant Coach Wade Thompson has made his help in training our football men indispensable. He is one who can instill the fighting wildcat spirit into every player, and one who stands for the highest ideals in all forms of competition.

Assistant Coach Bailey Hargraves, although a newcomer to Woodrow Wilson this year, has already proven his worth and has won the admiration and support of the student body.

D. M. McELROY
Halfback

D. M., that fighting Wildcat captain, finished his high school life in a flash of stellar football work. He made each game harder for our opponents by his marvelous ability in carrying the ball and when it came to forward passing, he flipped a wicked pig skin for many a yard's advance.

DAVID JOHNSON
Fullback

Johnson, from the start, did excellent blocking and later in the season, uncovered real ability in carrying the ball. We expect to hear from him in college for he is one of Woodrow Wilson's genuine fighting Wildcats—always there!

GLENN BERT
End

Glenn, captain of the line, made the all-city eleven by showing the football critics that he could be depended upon to snare passes as well as protect his end of the line from ambitious goal seekers. He was somewhat of a racer at speeding down the field regardless of interference, too.

E. P. BENNETT
Tackle

E. P., a newcomer into our football history, showed us that he was a hard tackler, and quite a few pigskin luggers in the city teams can vouch for the truth of this statement. His high ideals of sportsmanship make him a valuable addition to any team.

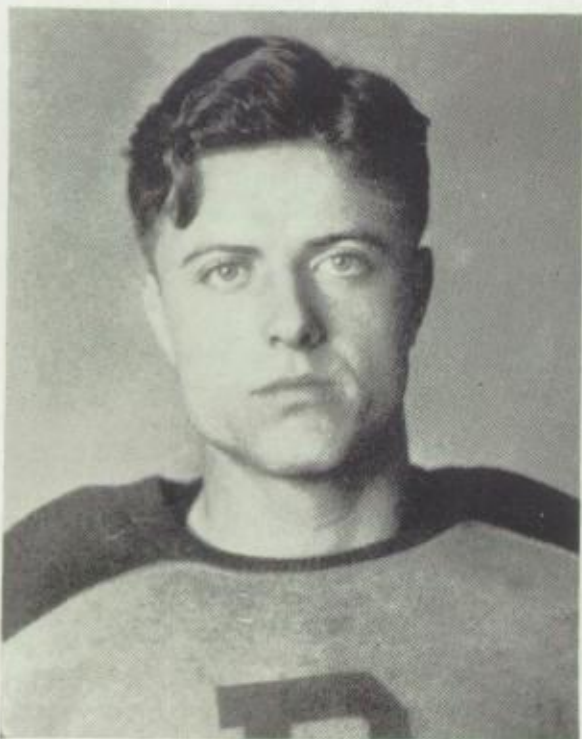

BOB WEBB
Center

Center is one of the most important positions on a team. It takes a steady mind and hand to pass that oval straight and true, but our Bob can be depended on to do this whenever it is necessary. On punts, after snapping the ball back, he plunged through the opposing line and got down the field in double quick time—often downing the receiver in his tracks. Considered one of the best tacklers on the team, he was given a berth on the all-city eleven.

ED WICKER
Halfback

Ed's ability as a track man made him a valuable addition to the backfield. Besides helping to carry the ball down the field, he frequently helped out in the kicking—and, when he kicked that oval it proceeded to go some place! and how!

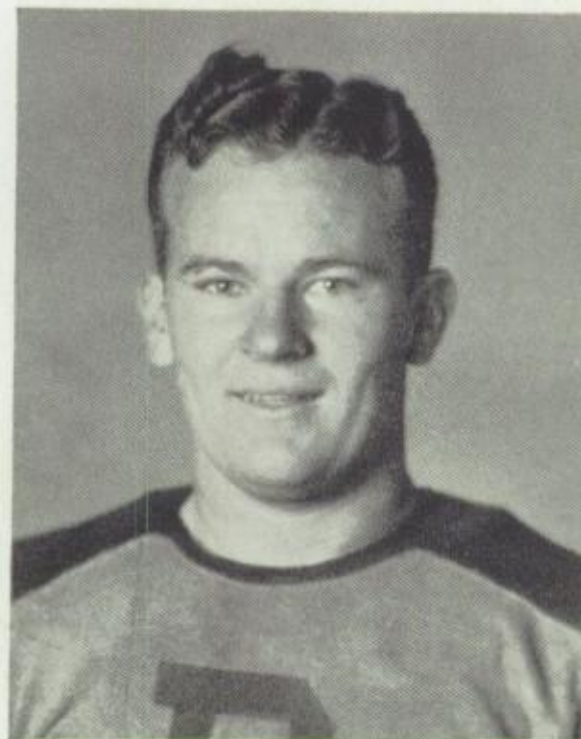

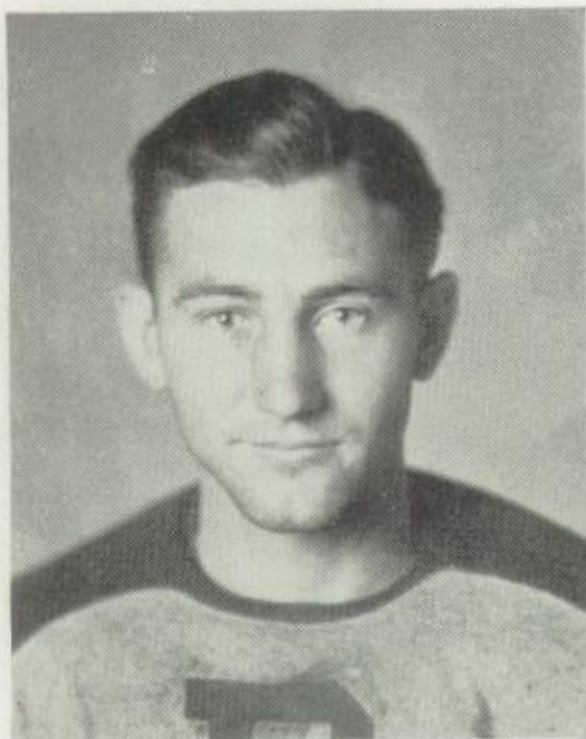

Earl Platt
EARL PLATT
Tackle

It's too bad June is so nearly here, for Earl expects to receive his sheep skin in June, and the triple W pig skin toters will sure miss him next fall. He was a dandy, both at tackling and blocking and was in every play for the glory of Woodrow Wilson High.

GLYN MEALER
Guard

Pete, a real Wildcat scratcher, will be back next year, again to demonstrate that brilliant blocking and tackling. He, with Downing and Webb, formed a powerful center and carried many an opponent out of play. We'll be waiting for you, Pete, and have a new nickname all ready and waiting—"Peter, the Great".

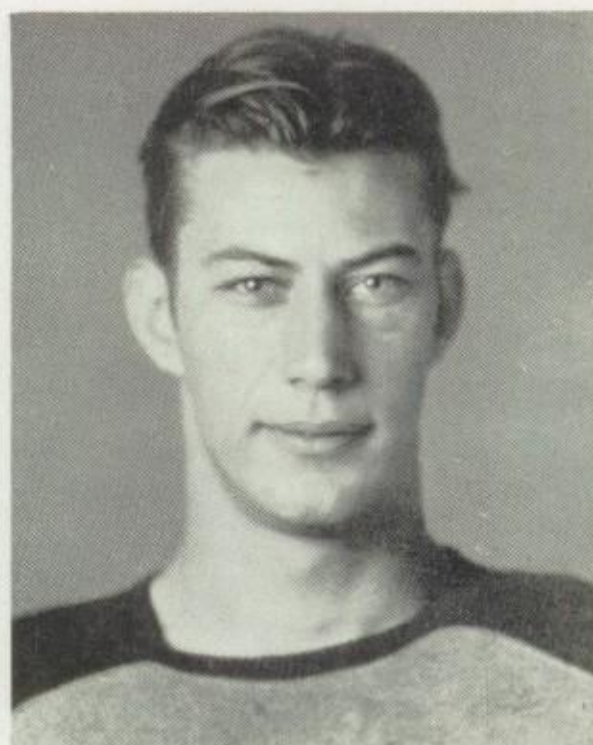

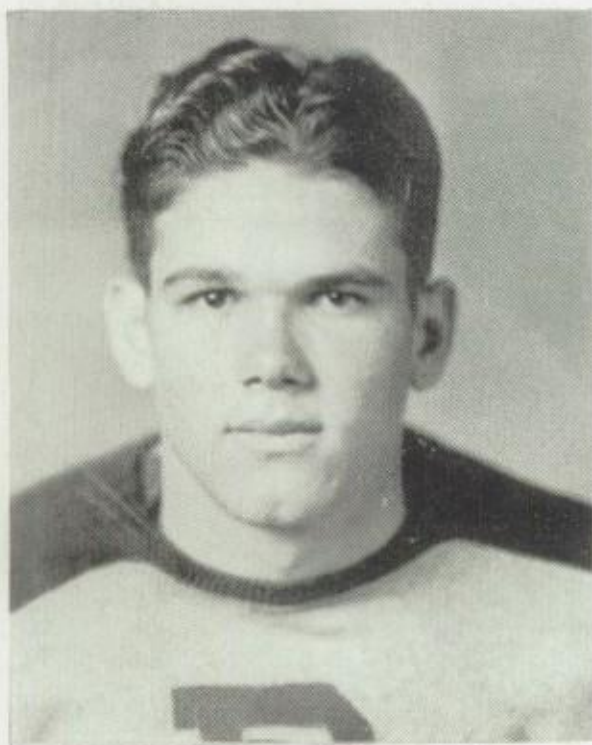

J. W. OWENS
End

Owens was a wonder on the receiving end of passes and with his running mate, Sable, held down the right end the line. He displayed real Wildcat spirit on the defense and in recognition of his real worth was placed on the News' all-city team.

HERMAN DOWNING
Guard

Downing was a consistent player who will return next fall for further action on behalf of the Wildcats. When he and Mealer pulled out of line, they usually opened a path for the ball. On defensive also Herman was a handy man to have around. He made many a good tackle and plowed his way through interference to the ball carrier just like an army tractor.

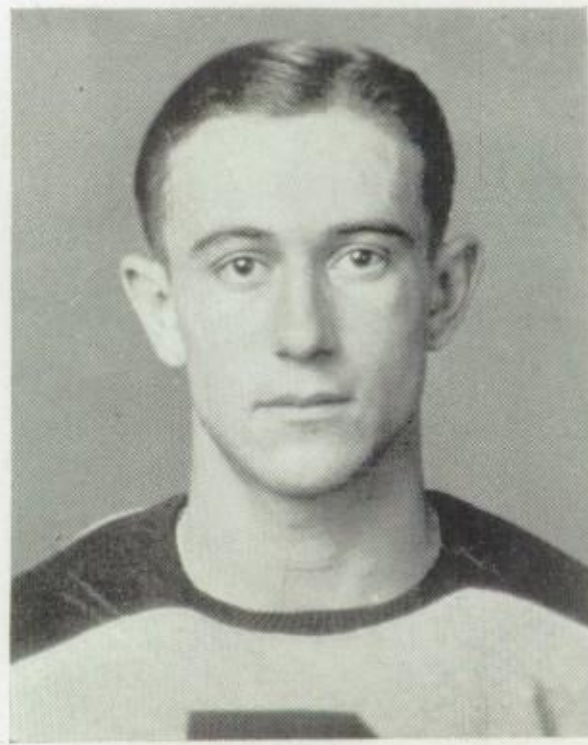

D. F. SABLE
Tackle

We hated to see Dick graduate in January because he was a mighty steady football man who could be depended on to play all four quarters of a game and be going strong at the final whistle. He was a quick hard-hitting tackle and along with Mealer worked out a mighty pretty blocking game.

TOM CURRIE
Quarterback

Tom was very good at giving signals, but he was a real star in broken field running. His small body rushed here and there eluding hostile tacklers. All proper Wildcats are still excited over his 73-yard dash for a touchdown in the game with Sunset High.

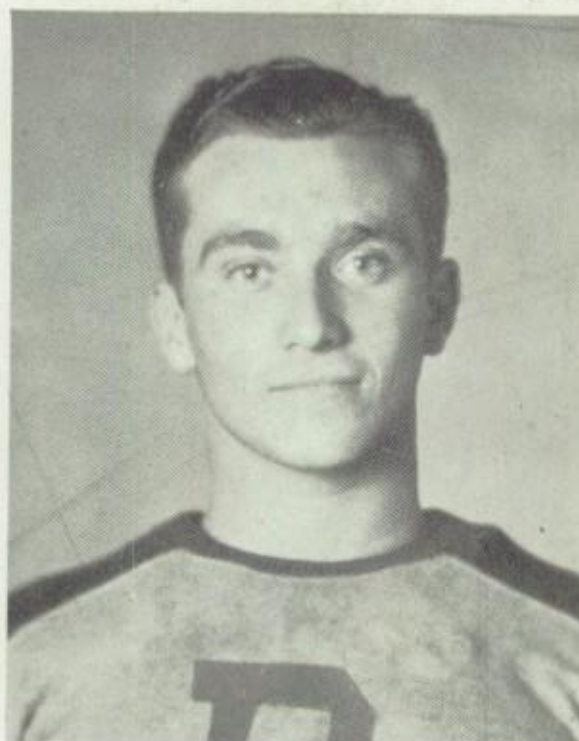

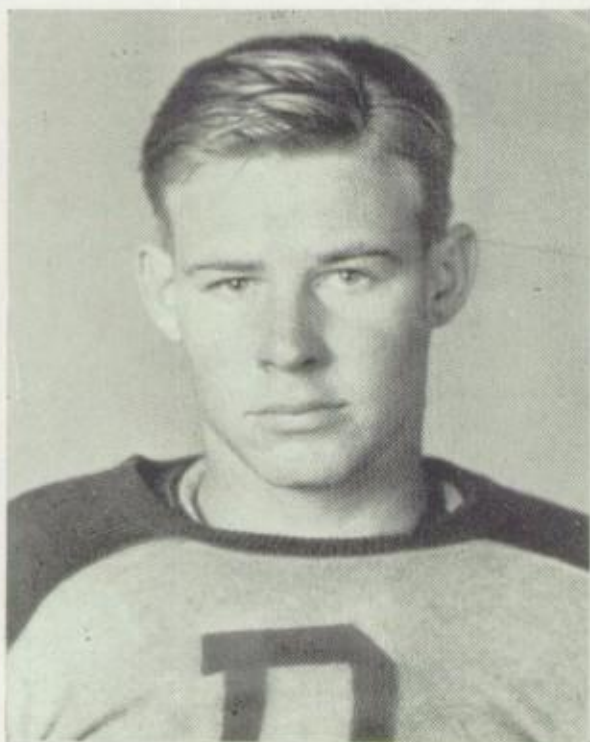

ED BEALE
Fullback

This was Beale's first year for football but from all appearance the Wildcats will have a strong man back in '31. He turned in a sterling game on all occasions and will be a real prop in the backfield next year—We'll be waiting (and Rooting!) for you at the Stadium, Eddie!

LOUIS NOWLIN
End

Nowlin played his first year of football for the triple W in 1930. He was not a flashy player, but he was in every play and was fighting hard when the last whistle sounded. He has plenty of power and knowledge of the game which he promises to use next fall for the W. W. W.

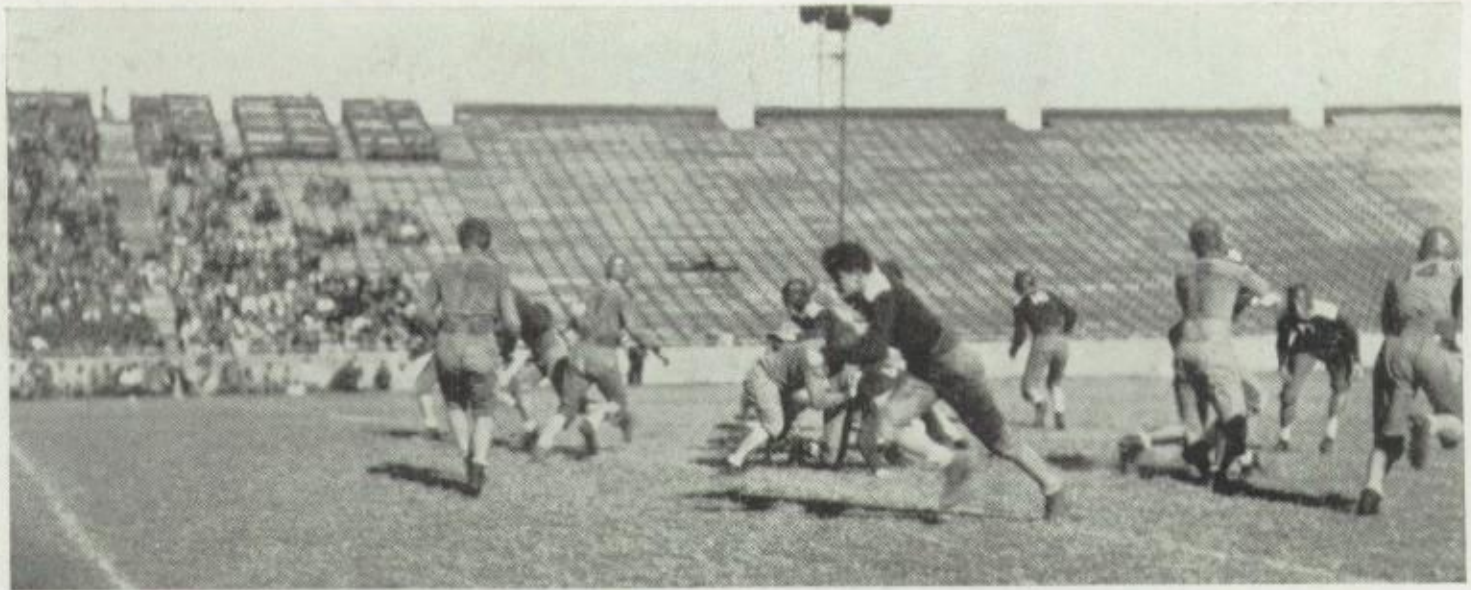

DENERY PICKARD
Halfback

It was a sad day for the opposition when Pickard joined the Wildcats. He soon showed that he had the speed necessary for a backfield man and helped greatly in tearing off yards to attain first downs for the Wildcats.

EDWIN ROYCE
Student Manager

Edwin ably held down the position of student manager for the Wildcats during the 1930 season. He had to be on his job at all times—at practice, at games, and even before and after each battle. He performed his labors conscientiously and well and in his modest way proved to be as much of a Wildcat as his fighting brethren.

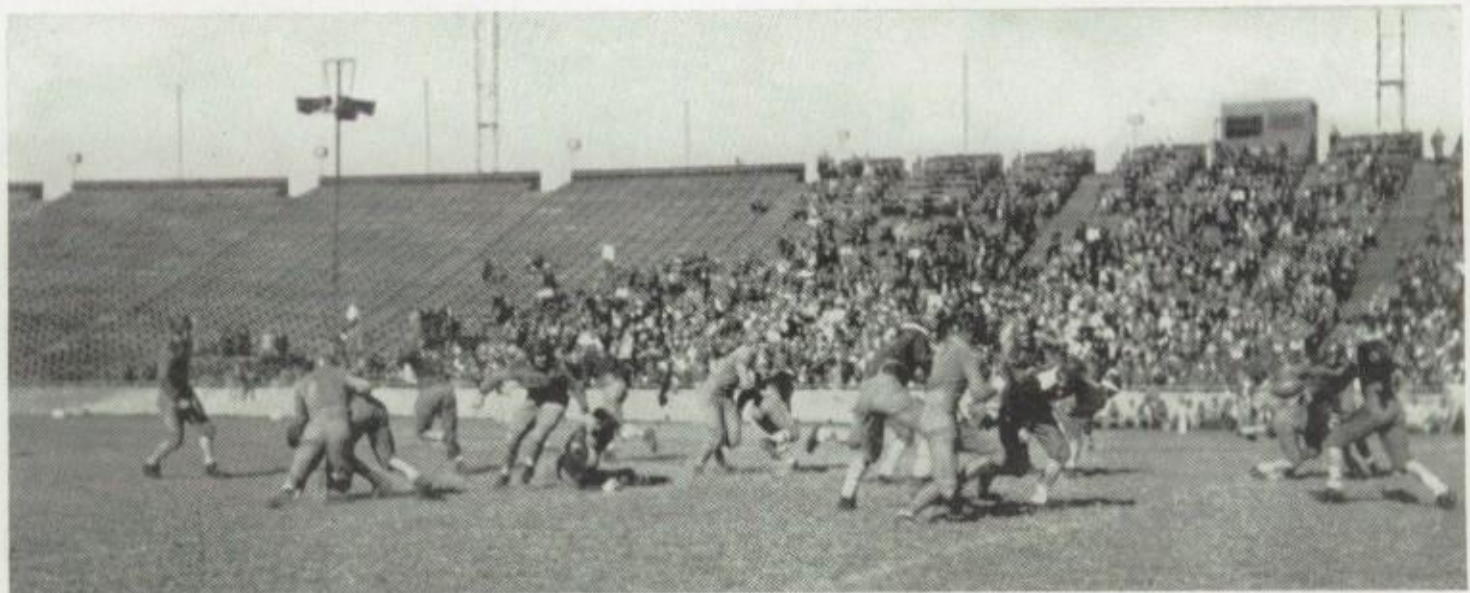

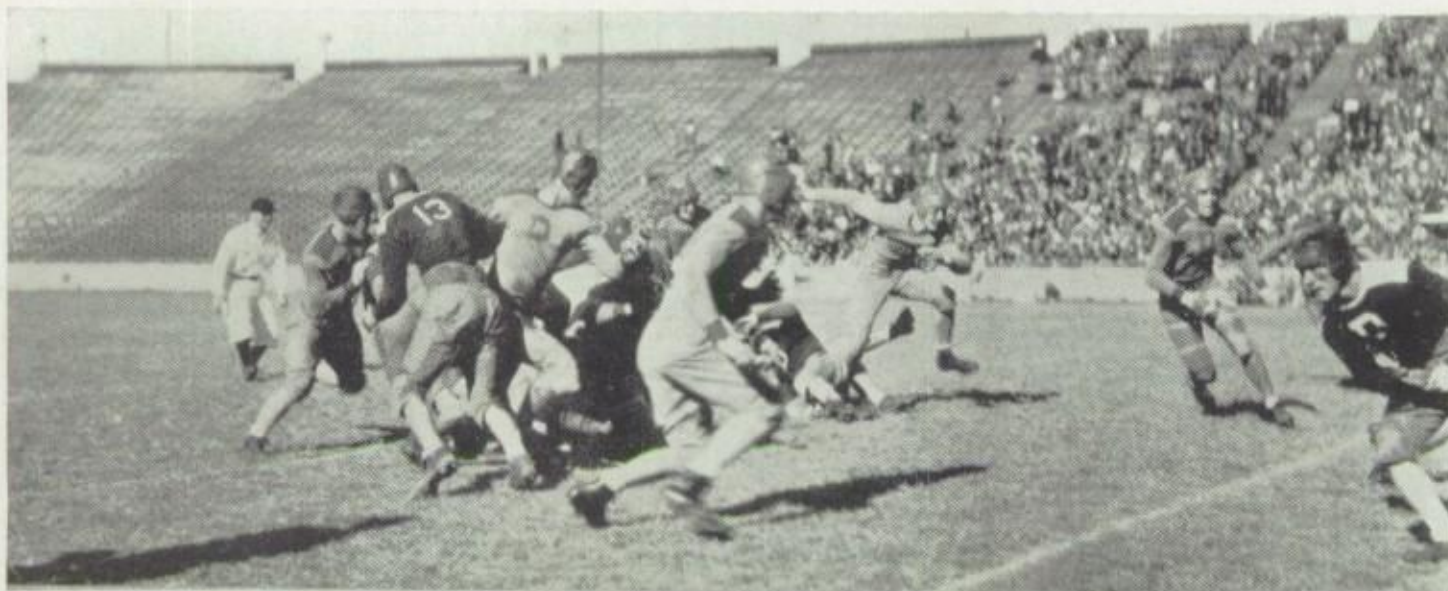

The 1931 Football Season

After a long and restful summer, the Woodrow Wilson Wildcat yawned, stretched himself, and began to sharpen his claws for the football season. Chief Trainer Forester and his aide, Thompson, after looking over our huskies, ordered them to stick to raw meat for a diet, and trained them to scratch any and all animals. However, this proved ineffective in the first tryout, for Tyler beat his men by 28 to 0. Forester then tried the starvation plan, and led his hungry young beasts to play Highland Park, who nevertheless downed them 12 to 0. All this wasn't very encouraging, so on the last practice game the Wildcats roused themselves and whipped McKinney 28 to 0. After this help to our morale, we felt prepared for the big City Series.

WOODROW WILSON 12—DALLAS TECH 12

Bang! and the Wildcats and the Wolves blasted the lid off the city series race in a struggle which was unreel'd at North Dallas field. A big pep rally was held the night before the game and the Wildcats and Wilson student body were rarin' to go. The first period of the game went scoreless—both teams fighting and plunging, but neither being able to score. The first counter came in the second quarter, when after a couple of plunges had gone woozy the Wildcats turned to the air. Bert gathered in McElroy's heave and stepped across the line for a touchdown. Tech scored in the second and third periods but in each case the kick for extra point was blocked. Late in the fourth quarter Mr. Currie breezed across the goal line for a touchdown and a few minutes later the game ended in a tie.

WOODROW WILSON 7—SUNSET 0

In the first night game of the season the Wildcats soundly outplayed the Bisons, but the game looked as if it were doomed to end in a scoreless tie. The line of the Wilsonites had been working nicely, stopping the plungers of the Bisons in their tracks and often throwing them for losses. Late in the fourth quarter Tom Currie took it upon himself to supply the missing spark and, when the line opened up a hole on the right, he stepped through the breach and ran 73 yards for a touchdown. McElroy kicked the extra point.

WOODROW WILSON 0—OAK CLIFF 32

Throughout the first period of this game both clubs fought without a score. Woodrow Wilson outsmarted the Leopards in the opening kickoff and pulled an off-side kick successfully. This didn't net much gain though and the teams ended the first period in a kicking duel. The Leopards scored heavily in the second period, continued scoring in the third and fourth periods, and carted back to Oak Cliff the heavy end of a 32-0 score.

WOODROW WILSON 29—NORTH DALLAS 0

Led by McElroy, a Wildcat back, the Triple-W outfit trounced the North Dallas Bulldogs 29 to 0 at Fair Park Stadium in an Armistice Day grid struggle in Dallas. Play was ragged in the first quarter, but in the second quarter Bert grounded McElroy's kick behind the Bulldog safety man, a scant foot from the goal line. When North Dallas attempted to kick out of danger the oval went out of bounds inside the end zone, giving the Wildcats two points. In the third quarter McElroy scored twice on runs, one of which was a beauty—52 yards long. He closed the game by scoring again in the fourth quarter and the Wildcats retired to their den with the 29-0 victory to appease Coach Forester.

WOODROW WILSON 0—FOREST 7

In the closing game of the 1930 city series race the Wildcats met defeat at the hands of the Forest Lions, but after the game was over the Lions knew they had been in a real game with real Wildcats. The only score was made early in the first quarter. In the second period Forest kicked almost straight up and the ball came down to Mealer who carried it to the Forest 15-yard line. Currie made five yards, but on the next play the Wildcats lost twelve yards and the half ended a moment later. In the next quarter the Wildcats seemed to respond to frantic cries of "Hold that line," and on the next two plays Forest lost ten yards. But the Wildcats' last threat in the quarter was dashed when Stone of Forest intercepted McElroy's pass to Currie and the 1931 season closed with the Wildcats growling threats of next year, when they fully intend to dethrone the Lion as King of Beasts in Dallas.

HUMOR

"Laugh Clown Laugh"

DEDICATION

A weary staff dedicates these few pages to all good sports who can laugh at a joke even when it is on themselves, and who are willing to waste a smile on our wise cracks even though they may have heard them before.

FREE ADVICE

No offense is intended but we have retained all rejected (and censored) jokes—so any one who objects to this mild stuff will find some much worse in the other Senior Publication.

TRY A WANT AD

"I guess I've lost another pupil," said Mr. Cates as his glass eye rolled down the kitchen sink.

REPARTEE

Marciel Fletcher: "You're no collar ad."

Charles Bulger: "Well, you're no Fisher Body ad yourself, darling."

EXPERIENCE

Dorothy Cowan: "I don't think you wanted to hear me sing."

Katherine Travis: "Oh, yes I did. I never had heard you before."

BE NONCHALANT!

Miss Reid: "If a group of sheep is a flock, and a group of cattle a herd, what is the name for a group of camels?"

Milton Nu Delman: "A carton."

WHY?

Bill Willingham: "Why hasn't Mr. Cobb got much hair?"

Miss Dean: "Because he thinks a lot."

Bill: "Then why have you got so much, Miss Dean?"

Miss Dean: "Go on with your lesson."

DIFFERENT? HOW COME?

Margaret Hensel: "Let's do something different tonight."

Shofner Smith: "All right, let's turn out the lights and look at the family album."

100%

Mr. Parris (in Physic class): "This physics book will do half the work for you."

John Brunken: "Give me two books."

PAGE SHAKESPEARE

"If you were to say," explained Miss Brown, "'There was an old woman who lived behind a hill, and if she hasn't moved she lives there still,' that is poetry. But if you were to say, 'There was an old woman who lived behind a hill, and if she hasn't moved she lives there yet,' that is prose. Now, class, give some examples of prose and poetry."

Heston Cherry: "'There was an old woman who lived by a well; one day she stepped in and now she's gone to —' what do you want, prose or poetry?"

ABOUT TIME

Robert Finklea (in barber chair): "Hair cut."

Barber: "Oil changed, sir?"

R. F.: "Huh!"

NATURE STUDY

Judge: "You are accused of stealing a chicken. Have you anything to say?"

Stanley Gibbs: "I just took it for a lark."

Judge: "No resemblance whatever. Ten days."

SOCIALLY SPEAKING

Mazie Rogers: "Does Bill McFadden belong to the 400?"

Montella Timmons: "Yes, he's one of the ciphers."

MELANCHOLY DAYS.

Mr. Hargreaves (in his General Science class): "When do the leaves begin to turn?"

Jimmie Hancock: "The day before examinations."

Calendar

September

- 15—At last, THE day is here. 4A's have all the luck while the rest of us wildly rush from yon to hither and back again. Poor little 1B's! How many of them got lost?
- 20—First game of the football season. Tyler walked off with the long end of a 28-0 score. We'll call it just a practice game—sounds better.
- 26—Terrible battle with Highland Park. Wildcats never did like Highlanders—that must account for the 12-0 score.

October

- 3—Nine rahs for the team which brought us in a victory of 27-0. Mc K i n n e y High will hesitate to attack another wildcat!

- 9—Pep rally! Wonder who won the race for yell leaders? We ought to know soon — Here they come — Frances Schulz, Sally Goodenow, Clyde Holloman and Johnny Reece —Some quartet!
- 10—Game with Tech. It's hard to go against the "Old Home Town" but we couldn't let them win—so we tied 'em 12-12.
- 14—First holiday, Dallas Day at the Fair —Balloons, Hamburgers, Lightning, Candy, Whip, and Indigestion!
- 16—Assembly—Everybody full of pep for our first

- night football game
comes off
tomorrow.
Got a date?
17 — A B i s o n ought to know that he can't beat a Wildcat. Currie made a 73-yard run across the white line and made the score 7-0. Collegiate and citified—that's us!

- 24—First edition of W. W. News. Some newspaper! A little smaller than The Dallas Morning News but just as good.
- 28—Of course, they are inevitable and we knew that they had to come but Why?—Oh Why? did the teachers have to make our report cards break out like a red rash? Seats are now being reserved for a ninth period study hall—We wonder if they have a "standing room-only" sign?
- 31—Teacher's Hallowe'en party. "The goblins 'll get you if you don't watch out." R. O. T. C. Officers' Club is going to initiate new members!—Oh well! O-o-o-o-h! It's all in the life of an officer! Any thing to wear a sword!

November

- 1 — Wildcats staged a regular prow! all over town but Oak Cliff got that 32-0 score!
- 3—Miss Raymond from the Cleanliness Institute came to Assembly! "Children, let's soap for the best." She has "pep", "push", "it" and "those". We liked her line and it was a long assembly, too.
- 4—Girl's Assembly about adopting a uniform! They say they are going to wear uniforms but we doubt it! We know too much about girls!
- 8—Annual Staff has a picnic at Reverchon Park. Boys and Miss Griffin conspicuous by their absence, but it was some large picnic, any how!

10—Armistice Day assembly. Pretty good, too, and we all behaved splendidly until H. Bush did his solo from behind the scenery—That was too much!

26—Well, what do you know? Two whole holidays—Thanksgiving, turkey, and football!

December

5—Mother's Club gives us "Animal Crackers". What a bark of a show!

17—Christmas Assembly! — Who was Santa Claus and Why? We really like our teachers a lot, but we wish they wouldn't try to make us do double time, now.

23—Christmas—No school 'till next year! Rah, rah, rah—Santa Claus! —Good-bye!

January, 1931

5—School opens after the holidays. What a downcast bunch straggled back to school! Did you ever see such a long line outside of the office? And Oh! What a detention hall there is going to be!

6—More school! No fun in anything—not even the lunchroom menu.

9—Hot Doggie! Friday at last and we thought the week would never end.

12—Basketball season started today—also, could you comprehend the unexpected assembly?

14—To be a little trite "How time does fly!" Wednesday already, and Senior Day coming.

15—Newspapers are out and did you see the Senior play cast?

16—Senior Day! Who said "hard times"? Did you ever see such pretty clothes? Assembly was swell! See you to-night!

16—Night—Oh, you "Jade Necklace"!

Mystery? Plenty. Romance? Medium! Humor? Lots! Some of it unintentional!

19—Blue Monday—and a real deep, dark indigo blue at that!

21—Not much doing but work! Exams are coming!!!

23—Senior Dance—Hot music and a good time!

26—Ouch! "Lest we forget"—Exams are beginning and we are signing off until the battle is over.

30—Graduation Exercises—More pretty clothes! Honors to Cecil Stell and Jacle Marie Purkerson.

February

2—Well, everybody is a term older, in time, at least. We'll do better next time.

4—Back to the steady grind! Did you see those ex-seniors registering for P. G. Courses?

8—Baby Show? Oh, no—just the new 1B's. Aren't they cute?

11—Assembly—Beauty and popularity contest started—We are not in either one!

13—No, I did not see a black cat, but I sure made a low grade on a test to-day—and that's bad luck at my house.

18—Col. Hinton, sky-rider, spoke at assembly on "aviation, cuts, and shoe-eyelets"! Some range!

20—Friday! Glad? Listen to the echo.

23—Blue Monday, all over! — Why doesn't some smart fellow make over the calendar and leave Monday out? A traffic "enthusiast" predicts driver's licenses — Oh dear another exam!

But there's one thing—teacher will have to take this one, too; and so will pa and ma.

26—New staff get out our newspaper—did a good job, too.

CRUSHED HOPE

Chandler Lloyd: "I am in a terrible fix and have no idea where to get money from."

Wilford Looney: "Good, I was afraid you thought you could get some from me."

OLD STUFF

Winston Caldwell: "Something seems wrong with this engine, it—"

Eloise Adams: "Don't be silly, wait until we get off the main road."

A REAL INVESTMENT

Donald Cameron: "I want a pair of corduroy pants."

Clerk: "How long?"

Donald Cameron: "How long? I don't want to rent them—I want to buy them."

TO THOMAS

Mary Rice: "What ya writing?"

Mary Fogleman: "A joke."

M. Rice: "Send him my love."

Society Brand Clothes

THE importance of "how you dress" increases when you leave high school. To make the most of this factor choose as your guide the clothes of a maker such as Society Brand—smart enough, though not extreme nor too conservative—but correct!

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

John Myrick: "Say, pardon me, old man, but are you in my Algebra class, third period?"

Mr. Edmondston: "Yes."

J. M.: "How's chances for a little fifty-fifty on Monday's assignment?"

Mr. Edmonston: "Er, well, you see, I'm the teacher."

MY ERROR!

Mr. Caldwell: "Will you boys please stop exchanging notes in the back of the room?"

George Kelly: "Them ain't notes. Them's dollar bills. We're shooting craps."

Mr. Caldwell: "Oh, pardon me."
